Hoofs Begin to Fly at Tanforan Tomorrow

(By the Stable Boy)

Thundering hoofs of thoroughbreds will bring thrills to race fans when they again reverberate in speeding competition at Tanforan for a twenty-five day spring meeting, beginning tomorrow, Saturday, April 30.

What promises to be the greatest racing session ever to be staged in Northern California will get under way when the field is sent from the starting gate for the first race at 2 o'clock p. m.

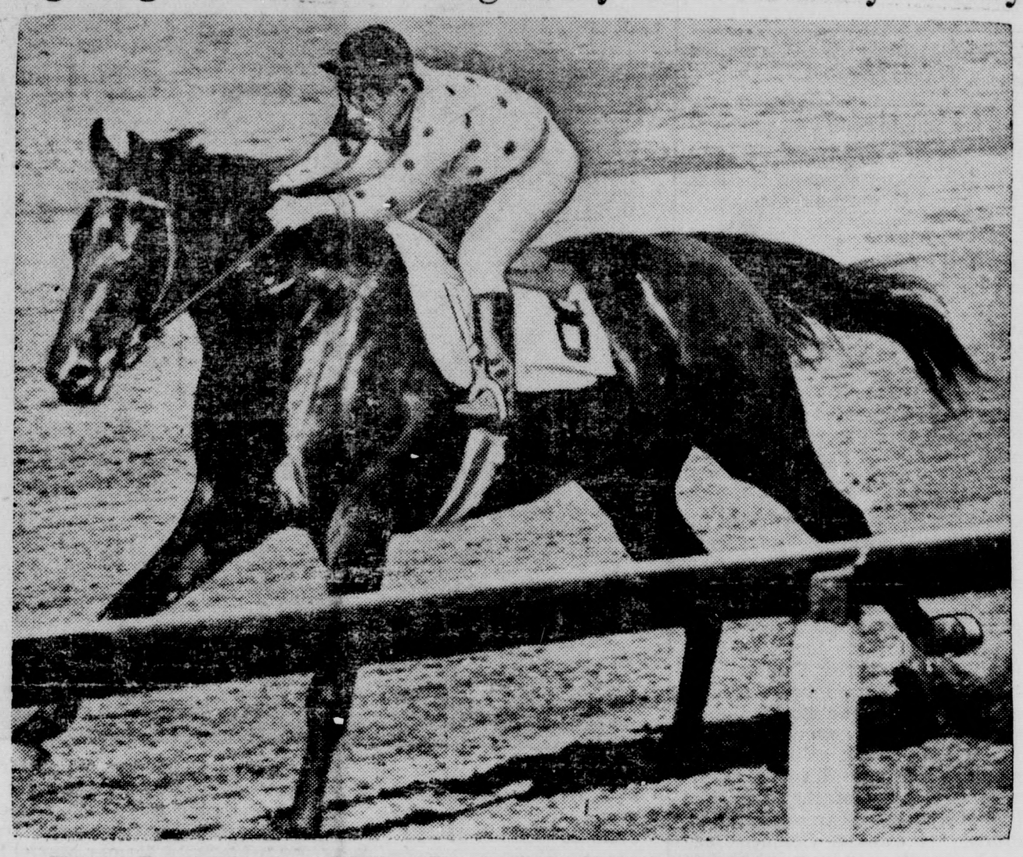
The feature attraction on opening day will be the sixth race, the Tanforan Inaugural Handicap, at six furlongs, with $2500 added as a stimulus for the field of high class performers entered. This contest is for three year olds and upward.

Another feature, which has excited keen interest among lovers of the fast steppers, is the Heather Farm Handicap, for a purse of $1200, for four year olds and upward, at a mile and a sixteenth. Considerable competition is promised the faithful in the running of this event.

A great deal of interest and enthusiasm has been manifested by followers of the thoroughbreds, and this spring meeting is confidently looked forward to as the best ever staged at the popular home course.

Many of the highest class runners now campaigning in the West are stabled and ready for action at Tanforan, and much formful racing is anticipated.

Fighting Fox Promising Entry In Kentucky Derby



Fighting Fox, full brother of Gallant Fox, is pictured crossing the finish line alone to win a recent race at Jamaica, L. I., track. It was his first race as a 3 year old and to celebrate the day he ran out leaving the field behind him. He is a promising entry in the Kentucky Derby which will run at Churchill Downs, Louisville, Ky., May 7.

PLAN FOR ANNEX TO COURT HOUSE IS GIVEN OKEH

Supervisors Discard Old Building Program In Favor Of New Project

The proposed county office building next to the county jail was discarded this week in favor of a $250,000 addition to the front of the courthouse on Broadway, in Redwood City.

Decision to erect an annex was reached after an executive meeting of the Board of Supervisors and county officials, at which preliminary plans and sketches were presented by Planning Secretary Ronald Campbell and Building Inspector William Watson Jr.

Application has been forwarded by air mail to the Public Works Administration in Washington for approval of the change in plans.

Cost of the office building was estimated at $181,818, with the county's share, $100,000.

The board decided to increase the cost of the annex to $250,000. This will include $225,000 for construction and $25,000 for furnishings.

The PWA will be asked to increase the amount of its grant in keeping with the raise in the sponsor's share. The Federal grant is approximately 45 per cent of total cost.

The county has already raised $100,000 over a two-year period, and another $50,000—half of which would go to buy furnishings, will be included in the 1938-39 budget if the change in plans is approved by Washington.

TO INVESTIGATE DEPARTMENT OF COUNTY HEALTH

Wants To Know Why Citizens Board Is Not Functioning More Actively

Percy J. Shaw, foreman of the San Mateo County grand jury, announced this week he would ask that body for authority to call a conference of several county officials to discuss conditions in the county health department. In an interview, he said:

"The charter sets up a board of health and welfare. It should be more active and we intend to find out why it is not more active."

Dr. Gans maintained that the health board is active, meeting on the second Tuesday of each month to review all department reports before they are submitted to the executive and to the board of supervisors.

He named as members of the board, Louis Goecken, San Mateo, chairman; Dr. Will Rebec, Belmont; R. E. Longwell, Millbrae; Dr. N. D. Morrison Sr., San Mateo; and Pansy Jewett Abbott, county superintendent of schools, ex-officio secretary.

"We have recently organized a citizens' advisory council," the health department head stated, "to bring the department into closer contact with the public. We feel that our civic organizations should be consulted in matters vital to the public health and welfare of the community."

TAX PAYMENTS BETTER THIS YEAR

Surveying preliminary results of the 1937-1938 county tax collections, Tuesday of this week, County Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney announced that collections were better this year than last.

The total bill against the county, he pointed out, was $2,920,014, about $800,000 higher than 1936-37. The delinquency on Tuesday stood at $181,073, with prospects of collecting about $300,000 more in the course of clearing, McSweeney estimated. While the delinquency was smaller in dollars and cents than last year, it was larger in percentage, he said.

Hopes For Stage Career

A Cleveland girl, Miss Caroline Strainic, is hoping for a chance to tread the boards of a Broadway theater soon.

Miss Caroline Strainic is a very busy young woman, being employed as a model by day, a social worker by night and an amateur actress between times.

JUST POSSIBLE THE MILLENIUM HAS ARRIVED

The Tables Finally Have Turned And Poor County Officials Get A Break

Foresters Hall at Redwood City will be the meeting place for county officialdom, this Saturady night, April 30, as the result of a pleasant surprise.

Usually "hounded" to purchase tickets for this and that "worthy cause," especially in election years, county officials this week greeted with unexpected glee their invitations to attend the Redwood City Municipal Band's Barn Dance, tomorrow night. Each invitation contained a complimentary ticket.

In response to the consideration of the bandsmen, dozens of the county's leading officials have indicated their intention of attending the rustic affair.

"Big Apple" numbers for the younger set, waltzes and a Paul Jones number to be called by Deputy Sheriff Louis Lodi for the more mature dancers, will be included in the gala program for the evening, it has been announced.

Members of the Redwood City city council have been asked to serve on the reception committee.

Darling; financial secretary, Mrs. Eugene Alred; historian, Mrs. O. Ramsey; parliamentarian, Mrs. F. McKinney; and auditor, Mr. A. Lothrop.

Mrs. B. D. Ralston, in-coming president for Seventeenth District, was guest speaker.

GOING STRONG AT HUNDRED AND ONE

Drummer boy for Gen. John C. Fremont, a friend of Buffalo Bill and Wild Bill Hickok, was the unusual history of Henry Ingersoll Cameron, who celebrated his one hundred and first birthday in San Francisco, Monday of this week. His wife is 82.

TEACHERS TAKE TOUR THROUGH COUNTY SCENES

Two hundred teachers of the county enjoyed an all-day car and bus trip to historic and scenic spots in San Mateo County, Saturday of last week. The trip, arranged by the San Mateo Junior College, drew a fine representation of teachers from the Daly City area.

Starting at the historic Mills estate in Millbrae, where the group saw an old Indian mound and early Mexican millstone, the party crossed the Skyline boulevard to Salada Beach, noting the wild flowers the formation of the bay shore line, and the old Portola route on the way. The teachers examined the old Sanchez adobe on the Coastside, the effects of heavy erosion on the hills, and the rock strata as clearly shown on the new highway.

The teachers enjoyed a hearty lunch at Moss Beach, examined the shore line, the elevated seas terraces and then went on to Half Moon Bay, site of early Mexican homes. The group stopped at the Spring Valley lakes to be told of the homes that once existed in those valleys, and ended the journey at the famous old Ralston home in Belmont, now used by the Notre Dame College.

In addition to talks from Junior College instructors, the party heard several discussions on historic spots from Supervisor Alvin Hatch of Half Moon Bay and Roy Cloud, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association, who was born in a home now covered by the lakes.

AUTOS COLLIDE AT BURLINGAME

A three car collision took place on the Bayshore highway at Burlingame avenue, tying up traffic for a short time, Sunday night.

Occupants of the machines, driven by Jean Barbe, Fausta Morenson and Francis H. Pfitzer, all of San Francisco, escaped injury.

Mythical Story Turns Out To Be Reality

From Yakima, Wash., comes the news that the story about the man who built a boat in his basement and then discovered it was too big to move through the doorway is now a reality.

Charles Westeby of that town reports he would have to rip out part of his newly-constructed 16-foot boat so that it could clear the basement doorway.

NO EXCUSE FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Newspapers of San Mateo County carried a story a few days ago relative to the arrest of a man on charges of drunken driving on the Bayshore Highway. This serious offense against society was augmented by the fact that the car he was driving was mechanically unsafe. At the hearing the defendant admitted that his steering wheel had "lots of play"; in fact, there was a full turn of play in the steering wheel.

Records last year of accidents due to mechanical failure, in both fatal and non-fatal accidents, list as the principal causes: brakes defective, puncture or blowout, one or both headlights out, glaring headlights, tail light out or obscured, and steering mechanism defective, with defective brakes showing the largest percentage. Many of these would have been eliminated if all cars had been kept in good condition.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

MACHINE WRECK CAUSES DEATH OF JAYSEE STAR

Charles Barrachi, 27, former San Mateo Junior College football star, was killed when his car crashed into a tree near Decoto, Monday of this week.

Barrachi, who was coach at Hayward High School, attended Junior College here in 1931 and left in the spring of 1932 to enter San Jose State College.

He graduated from the San Jose college in 1936 and was for some time employed by the Stanford University physical education department before taking the coaching position at Hayward.

Baracchi was driving to work from his home at Palo Alto, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angello Baracchi, and a sister, Mary, live, when the accident occurred.

The car skidded out of control on a wet patch of highway paving a mile from Decoto and struck a tree.

NEW CEMETERY FOR PRESIDIO IS ASSURED

Assurance that the Senate appropriations committee has set aside $295,000 for purchase and development of a new national cemetery in the Presidio was received this week in a telegram from Senator William G. McAdoo.

BECOMING MODERN

In the walled town of Sikar, near Bombay, India, thousands of discontented tenants began a sit down strike, Tuesday of this week, and, armed with curved swords, simultaneously prepared for defense against two battalions of Indian troops which had begun a siege of the town.

GEORGE FINALLY MADE SUCCESS OF DEATH TRY

After Courting Final Fadeout By Cutting Throat And In Inhaling Gas, Drowning Turned The Trick

Warren George Hambleton, familiarly known as "George" to his associates, was found, Sunday morning of this week, drowned in a shallow lily pond in the Home Peace Cemetery at Lawndale.

On two other occasions the dead man has attempted suicide, but without success. A few months ago, Daly City police were called to his little home at 618 San Diego avenue by neighbors, who smelled gas. It was only because they rushed him to Villa Sanitarium, kept him there for two days in an "iron lung," that Hambleon didn't die, then.

But the despondent man was still determined to die.

A few weeks later, there was a trail of blood one morning, from the beauty shop where he worked as janitor-watchman to his home. Again the police found him—with his wrists and throat cut. Again they saved his life, at the same sanitarium.

Sunday morning, early comers to the Home of Peace Cemetery, at Lawndale, saw a man lying, face down, in a shallow pool, there. This time, Warren Hambleton had had his way—he had been dead for hours by the time they found him.

More as a matter of routine than anything else an inquest was held. The verdict was "Drowned suicide."

Funeral services were conducted from the mortuary establishment of W. C. Lasswell & Co., Monday of this week. Interment was at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

SUGGEST WIVES SHOULD NOT WORK

The suggestion of William J. Campbell of Urbana, Ill., that "one-half of the five million married women now working could give up their jobs without causing serious financial distress and provide a much needed panacea for youth unemployment" was presented to a conference on higher education at the University of Illinois, Tuesday of this week.

Campbell, who is Illinois director of the National Youth Administration, recommended that the 2,500,000 "working wives" give up their jobs in favor of unemployed youth.

ROCKAWAY BEACH PEDRO VALLEY

By C. H. T.

Meetings have been held in this vicinity in protest against the establishment of work camps at Sharp's Park (Salada Beach) which many residents and property owners consider prejudicial to the best interests of the coastside locale. A meeting at Moss Beach, Thursday, April 21, brought a large attendance. Another protest meeting convened at Sharp's Park last Monday, followed by appearance the following morning at the regular session of the County supervisors at Redwood City, in personal appeal to the board to "do something about it." Still another meeting is scheduled for the coming Monday night (at Rockaway Beach, we understand) which all interested have been urged to attend. A petition is being circulated for presentation to the supervisors at Redwood City, Tuesday morning.

Bob Scott had a birthday Tuesday, and a surprise party was hastily arranged in his honor, which report declares was a great success, for Bob was really and truly "surprised" — so much so that June says he had to rush upstairs and get "dolled up" for the occasion after the twenty guests had arrived. A delightful evening was spent, Grace Danmann singing several songs, Don Hutley giving cowboy songs, and June Scott contributing two lyrics about the moon, which orb, by the way, seemed to be on the missing list. Perhaps that was why June sang about it! There was dancing of course, good eats and drinks, and a special treat was a couple of wonderful cakes baked by Mrs. Augustus, that vanished in a jiffy. Some jolly community singing was enjoyed, in which Uncle Harry Danmann took part with evident relish. Guests present were: Mrs. Coletha Bailey, Mrs. Jennie Bicknell, the Hector Martins, Clyde Garner and wife, Mrs. Hoegstra, Mrs. Marie Birkhofer, Mrs. Dunigan of Snug Harbor, Mrs. Gladys Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Danmann, Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford and others. The party broke up around three in the morning.

Gus Krieps, formerly of Rockaway Beach, visited his friends in this town last week. Gus was looking "as chipper as a cock sparrow," so we're told.

Report says that "Mac" McCarty is planning to build a house in Rockaway Canyon near his old home.

* * *

Jennie Bicknell's dog, "Mac," named for McCarty, is now about the size of a grand piano, and as sportive as a flea. The combination is a novelty not always enjoyed by those who are easily knocked off their pins. A handsome dog, at that.

Mario Toschi, truck driver was the victim of an unfortunate accident, when his truck is said to have been run down by an S. P. locomotive two weeks ago. Toschi is reported to be "doing nicely" at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco. He had a lucky escape from death, but he may suffer the loss of a leg below the knee, a serious loss for a man in his particular business. Nevertheless, Toschi is said to be in good spirits. No doubt he would be cheered to see some of his friends, who might tell him that "there are many better men in this world marching along on one leg, than on two!" A speedy recovery, Mario! And may you have some special streak of luck to make up for this misadventure.

Who is this worthy citizen in the coastside community so fond of good paintings that he simply can't pass up the chance to possess a notably fine one? Last week, it is reported, this lover of art bought two splendid marine paintings by Coulter, the famous California marine artist. This purchase was all very well, but now the man is afraid to go home! We might mention that it is not the dark he's scared of, but— Inquiries about this sad state of affairs in the locality of Shelter Cove bring no response. It might be just one of those rumors. 'Tell you later.

An upper corner lot on the Beeler property was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lammon of San Francisco. They are planning to build a handsome week end cottage on their Pedro lot. Mrs. Lammon is the daughter of Mrs. Victor Nielsen of Grande avenue Pedro, whose summer home is directly opposite the Lammon property.

Albert H. Boynton and his wife were visitors at Shelter Cove last Tuesday. The young couple are on their vacation, and they declared they didn't know of any more beautiful place than the Cove to spend it.

Among the strange sights of the week was a sightseeing bus from the city, going the rounds of Pedro and Rockaway and evidently considering the locality worth a "once over." Our coast-side villages are just now by way of being discovered. These scenic spots are a definite asset to San Mateo County, and every effort should be put forth by those in authority, to preserve and increase the natural beauty of our coastside, particularly when the great Fair is about to bring to California hosts of visitors from all over the world. Voters in this section will never forget the public spirited work achieved by a former supervisor in drawing attention to the value of the coastside, and what it might mean to the entire county and the state. Someone expressed the other day a wish that other supervisors might have sufficient vision to bring this locality to its proper place as an outstanding treasure-spot by improving its natural loveliness by the expenditure of time, thought, and—of course—cold cash! We have such fine members on our supervisors' board, that, no doubt, they will consider these points when time and money permit.

The Forrest Cubbons are back at their picturesque beach cottage, making plans for glassing in their porch for a livingroom. This is one of the very prettiest small places in Pedro. Mrs. Malvina Miller of Texas is a visitor, enjoying the exhiliarating air, and the view.

* * *

"Johnny Hills" is soon to go to Bay Meadows for a track tryout. What with two riding outfits in this neighborhood, Pedro is getting decidedly horse-minded. It's rather thrilling.

GILBERT THINKS WIFE MURDERED

On his way from Nogalez, Ariz., to Minden, Nev., "Jim" Gilbert, husband of Marian Gilbert, San Mateo County woman missing in Nevada, expressed his opinion that the woman was murdered, when interviewed at San Jose, early this week.

Gilbert, 27, himself named as a murder victim until last Saturday, said his theory of the puzzling Nevada case was that his 22 year old wife was the victim of foul play.

"I don't think she died in a blizzard," he declared.

Coronation By Mayor Feature Of Program

Among the many features of the May Day program to be staged on May 8 will be the crowning of King James and Queen Dorothy by Mayor Selmi, as king and queen of the May festival.

An extensive program is being planned by the Daly City Recreation staff in conjunction with the many local units which are to take part in the day's exercises.

Miss Rose will stage a program of dance and song by pupils from her studio. The complete program of events will be published next week in The Record.

Pershing Newlyweds Wing West

Entering a United Air Lines plane at Cheyenne, Wyo., Mr. and Mrs. Warren Pershing are shown as they started for the west coast while on their honeymoon. Warren Pershing is the son of General John J. ("Black Jack") Pershing, who recently recovered from a serious illness at Tucson, Ariz. The bride is the former Muriel Bache Richards, granddaughter of Jules Bache, New York financier. After a brief visit in San Francisco the couple will continue on their trip around the world.

Business—Economists feel that instead of under confidence on the part of business men, over confidence was the cause of the present depression. They observe that the automobile industry pushed sales on easier terms than ever before; raw material prices as well as those of finished goods have been pushed up; and inventories of goods have shown a rapid increase. In his recent message to Congress, President Roosevelt said that fear played an important part. Fear of war, fear of labor trouble, and fear of price increases themselves, were listed as causing the present recession.

* * *

Labor Bill—Many types of measures have been proposed for the wage-hour legislation. Now a measure has been brought out from the House Committee on Labor. The bill would start out with a 25-cent minimum wage for all interstate industry except agriculture, and within three years the bill would increase the minimum to 40 cents an hour. Hours would be similarly regulated, starting at 44 hours, then down to 40 hours within two years. The Department of Labor would have charge of the bill.

* * *

Banker—Through its various lending agencies, the federal government has become the United State's greatest banker. The government is equipped at present to loan money to business men, to state and local governments for construction, to individuals for home construction, and to farmers for crops. All these are brought about through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; the Public Works Administration; the New Housing Authority and the Commodity Credit Corporation. The government's present banking operations involve $7,608,000,000 in loans and in total assets $11,800,000,000. Against this is a total liability of $7,373,000,000.

* * *

Railroads — A bill drafted by Chairman Wheeler is likely to speed railroad reorganizations. At this session the only proposals likely to be enacted for railroads are revision of reorganization procedure, repeal of the law under which the government is given special rates for freight from land grant carriers, and to enable railroads to purchase equipment with a loan of $300,000,000.

* * *

Postmaster Appointments — A proposition to put postmaster appointments back under the spoils system, was rejected. When Senator McKellar of Tennessee registered a bill recently, permitting Congressmen to recommend appointees for postmasterships from among the three standing highest on eligible lists, a 49 to 20 vote in the Senate threw out the bill and substituted instead, the one introduced by Representative Ramspeck of Georgia which is designed to tighten civil service requirements.

* * *

Naval Construction—Favorably reported by the House Committee on Naval Affairs is a bill limiting profits on naval construction contracts to ten per cent of the contract price and all such profits in excess of ten per cent to be payed into the treasury. Losses on naval contracts would be allowed as a credit for the next succeeding income taxable year, according to this bill. Bills were also approved by the committee authorizing the navy to sell scrap metals to accredited schools, colleges and universities for use in vocational training; authorizing training of citizens for navy duty at naval stations for short periods; and authorizing a naval works program of $6,000,000.

Sixty-five And Over — Nearly eight million persons in the United States have reached or passed the critical age of 65. Particular interest attaches to them because of state and federal legislation recently enacted to bring them a measure of economic security. At the beginning of 1937 there were three large groups of aged (each numbering about one million persons) who possessed or received some form of income: persons with current earnings, persons with savings, and those in receipt of public assistance (old age assistance and aid to the blind) under the Social Security Act. In addition, there were three smaller miscellaneous groups: one of about half a million (514,000) persons who received federal, state, municipal, and private pensions, insurance annuities and so forth; a second of about one fourth of a million (268,000) persons who received various forms of organized public or private relief, other than public assistance under the Social Security Act in their own homes; and a third group of about 200,000 aged persons who were in public or private homes, in hospitals for mental disease, or in other institutions. Out of a total of about 7.8 million persons 65 or over on January 1, 1937, in the continental United States and Alaska and Hawaii, it is believed that: Approximately one third (2.7 million) were self-dependent. Approximately one fifth (1.6 million) were supported wholly or partially by public or private agencies. Between two fifths and one half (3.5 million, or 45 per cent) appear to have been essentially dependent on friends and relatives. Approximately two thirds (5 million) were supported wholly or partially by public or private social agencies or were dependent on friends and relatives.

HORSESHOES TO FLY WHEN LOCAL MEN COMPETE

Recreation Department Now Constructing Courts On Vista Grande Park Grounds

A standard court for the use of local horseshoe enthusiasts is being constructed by the Daly City Recreation Department at the Vista Grande Park Playground. Within a week, the courts should be in shape for play.

Horseshoes are provided by the Recreation Department and it is expected that a series of tournaments can be arranged and exhibition matches staged in the interests of this old American sport.

Visitacion and Bayshore News

BAYSHORE NEWS

Irene F. Mardecich

The board of trustees of the Visitacion Elementary School District was forced to turn down a government PWA Grant this week due to the fact that the auditorium job on the Bayshore School is already under construction. The trustees made application to the Federal Government last year at the tail end of the set-up for financial aid. After waiting for many months they were informed by the local office that the money was at a virtual end and it was quite certain that the aid would not be forthcoming. In order not to cause further delay, the board levied a tax to make up the difference of money needed and proceeded with the building program. This week word was received that an allotment of some $12,000 had been made to the Bayshore School and the board had to regretfully reject it. A project will soon be considered for the Brisbane School and aid will again be asked of the government. Bayshore will also receive benefit and equipment for the auditorium. Brisbane needs more room and preliminary estimates are now being made for a four classroom addition and improvement of grounds.

* * *

The trustees have also authorized new electrical wiring and roof for the old building in the Bayshore School. After inspection, it was found that both were found to be hazardous and in a bad state of disrepair. Funds on hand will allow for the additional expenditure. The trustees will furnish the difference needed by the Brisbane P. T. A. for a motion picture projector.

* * *

The Board of Fire Commissioners of Bayshore will meet in regular session in the Fire Hall Monday night, May 2.

* * *

The City Council of Bayshore will meet in regular session in the City Hall, Tuesday evening, May 3. Your presence is welcomed at both of the meets.

* * *

Bayshore's streets are undergoing a beauty treatment. Several gangs of men, under the supervision of Chief Williams, are cleaning weeds from the sidewalks and sweeping the the streets.

* * *

Two men have been allotted to the Bayshore School, by the county, for the purpose of helping renovate. The men will start work May 2 and will clean up the school grounds and plant shrubs and trees.

* * *

Jack J. Sullivan has been appointed by the Police Commissioners of Bayshore as assistant chief of police. He is now on duty as a relief officer and works approximately four days per month. Good luck, Jack.

TALE O' THE TOWN

By Joseph Straughan

MY FRIEND THE CAT

Soy Bean, that's my old flivver's name, was on the blink again and the battery was at fault. I had taken it out and was doctoring it up a bit. It's hard to handle one of the things without spilling some of the biting liquid and therein lies a story. "Skeegaw," a neighborly neighborhood cat (don't know if that's his right moniker or not), made friends with me when I first came to this place. He's a nice fellow. Very companionable and exceedingly playful. His greatest delight seems to be trying to grab moving type bars of my typewriter when I'm writing. Sometimes he gets over enthusiastic and slams back the carriage. If I didn't have a spark of sense of humor I might get riled, but I let it go by scolding him and erasing my mistake if "Skeegaw" hasn't already tossed my eraser away with his playful paw.

Well, getting back to the story, I said that I had spilled some battery acid. The floor being concrete and slightly dusty failed to absorb the liquid and it proceeded along in little puddles towards the drain. My friend Skegaw noticed the slowly moving globules and stooped down to investigate.

"Better look out!" I warned; but he paid no attention and kept eyeing the little pearlly puddle. Well, putting a battery back in an old Ford is job enough for one time and I forgot about Skeegaw and the puddles for the moment—but for not any longer; for he must have tried to hurry them along or something. Anyways he let out a yawl that caused me to drop the battery abruptly. I looked up and he was licking his paws as though he had chicken gravy on them. "Stop it, Skeegaw," I commanded, and made a rush for some baking soda to neutralize the acid. However, Skeegaw beat me up the stairs and down several times. There was no reasoning with that cat. He threatened me with all kinds of bodily harm and I dared not touch him. A passerby hearing the commotion opened the door to see what was going on and out bounded Skeegaw. That cat's antics might have been described as funny, but I didn't laugh, honest.

Weeks have passed and my friend, the cat gives my place a wide, wide berth. And he was such a nice fellow, too!

JUNIOR COLLEGE WILL WELCOME SCHOOL SENIORS

San Mateo Junior College will welcome high school seniors from Half Moon Bay, Pescadero, Daly City, South San Francisco, Burlingame, San Mateo and Redwood City Wednesday, May 4, at its annual College Day for Seniors. The seven or eight hundred visitors will be shown college classes in action, will be served a picnic lunch and will be given some special entertainment.

May 6 and 7 will be the dates for the holding of the college play, "Stage Door," a production open to the general public. The large cast has worked for the past five weeks preparing for the performance of the popular play.

Recently the college sponsored a trip to the De Young art museum in San Francisco, where many noted art objects, as well as a large junior college display, were on exhibition.

San Mateo is scheduling two football games for the coming fall season with junior college in southern California. One of the games will be played in the south and the other will take place on the San Mateo field. Santa Ana and San Bernardino, top teams in their leagues, are the two schools.

Dick Harris from Redwood City, was San Mateo's representative on the all-conference basketball team, a coaches meeting recently decided. Harris won the high honor through clever playing and heavy scoring.

Various Bay college coeds will be the guests of the Junior College Saturday at an invitational play day. Games and horseback riding will be included. The San Mateo girls recently attended a play day at Marin Jaysee.

Spring soccer practice has been started at the Junior College under Coach Sam Francis, and will be continued for one month in preparation for the fall when the team plays Stanford, California and other Bay colleges.

A Men's Club barn dance was a social success recently.

News From The State Theater

For the next three weeks the State Theater of South Francisco is pleased to present a Charles McCarthy-Eddie Bergen comedy at the Saturday matinee. During this period a number of ventriloquist dolls will be given away. Come out and enjoy the show. A complete, well balanced program is always the ambition of the management.

OBSERVATIONS OF GOINGS ON IN NATION CAPITAL

(By Hart Goodrich)

The C. C. C. Celebrates Five Years Of Worthwhile Jobs Well Done On Federal Projects

Conservative and liberal alike agree on at least one New Deal project, and that is the Civilian Conservation Corps. Since the inception of the corps in 1933 more than 2,000,000 men have passed through its gates. These boys are experienced, disciplined, trained to use their hands and brains, to take orders and, important of all, to live with other men. Many of them have since found employment in private industries and have made good. No longer are they shiftless and downhearted. They are now men

The main objective has been conservation of natural resources. CCC has performed so effectively that leading conservationists agree that the conservation program has been advanced by the CCC fifteen to twenty-five years. Enrollees have fought fires on a thousand fronts—some lost their lives. They have checked and controlled blister rust in the Northwest, Dutch elm disease in the Northeast, and pine twig blight in the Southwest. They fought bark beetles in the Western forests and gypsy moths in the East. Twenty million acres of forest lands were made free of these pests.

These boys have planted more than a billion young trees, built thousands of miles of truck trails on forest roads and completed 4,000,000 soil erosion check dams. And from their pay of $30 per month they sent home more than $435,000,000 to some 8,000,000 dependents.

In any national emergency CCC has lent a helping hand to victims of floods, hurricanes, tornadoes, fires, blizzards and droughts.

In 1933, when the depression spread like an epidemic throughout the land, millions of young men were idle, most of them just out of school with no prospect of employment. Idleness breeds mischief. The President knew that the country's natural resources were in need of reclamation, and that 5,000,000 or more young men needed a break! He knew most of them were ready and willing to work if given a chance. Our CCC was born in April of 1933 and thousands of khaki-clad boys found themselves traveling across the country—New York East Siders to Glacier National Park, New Jersey and Rhode Island boys to Oregon. Inexperienced city boys found real adventure in doing outdoor work in some of the most beautiful natural areas in the country. They worked hard, played hard and ate good food. They learned to drive trucks and tractors, fight forest fires, build bridges and stone structures, plant trees. But most of all, they learned how to take care of themselves—a new experience for most of them.

We need citizens with character, determination, self-confidence — men who can lead with a left! We're getting them through the training and hard work they get in the Civilian Conservation Corps.

LIGHTWEIGHTS IN TRACK CONTEST

This Saturday (tomorrow) morning all the aspiring lightweight cinder men in the peninsula will gather on Stanford's Angell Field to complete their season in the annual P. A. L. track and field meet. As it looks now, San Jose's lightweights will probably take first place. The Bulldog twenties are an exceptionally strong team and should take the meet easily, whereas, San Jose's thirties might be given trouble by Burlingame and Sequoia.

The Jefferson lightweights are not expected to be in the money but, nevertheless, the meet should see quite a few Indians placing. For instance, in the twenties we have Emo Barghini who will be right out in front in the 50 and 100 and should take the broadjump. Jack Parker probably will take a place in the high jump and the pole vault. Jerry Jones might take a third or fourth in the hurdles and likewise for Jack Willard in the 440.

The thirties are minus the material of the other division but should find Carl Dallasio placing in the 440. La Joie Mon Santo might come through in the weight events for a few points for Jeff. Roy Smith may give the other hurdlers a run for their money in the high and low barriers.

BRISBANE GENERALITIES

In order that our friend, Mrs. Nunn, may have a birthday this year may we correct the statement of last week? The date should have been April 30. So sorry.

* * *

Cards were received in town from Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Croft. They are enjoying their visit in Tennessee with their parents. Expect to return to Brisbane the first of May.

* * *

It is wonderful the way spring fever misses some people. I still wonder where Ed Ross got all the energy to put that high polish on his car. By the way Ed, if the energy lasts—my car (?) needs a shine.

* * *

Well so we finally heard of the rifle club. Some (unknown to us) lady phoned in to ask for a deputy sheriff to come out and stop the shooting. She said it was bad enough to have her house shot up every Sunday but when they started doing it on Monday, too, it was time to yell. May we suggest that the boys move a little further back in the hills?

* * *

We hear tell that Rev. and Mrs. Merlin C. Donaldson are leaving Monday on a short visit to Los Angeles.

* * *

The Brisbane Athletic Club lost its first game of baseball last Sunday. As many will rememebr it is a newly organized outfit and a lack of team play proved its downfall. We hope they can take their losses with a true show of sportsmanship and acknowledge that a better team beat them. Study their mistakes and eliminate some of them at every game.

* * *

Ladies Auxiliary dance Saturday night, April 30, at the Fire Hall.

* * *

Well, well, so Ruth Thompson has a birthday today. Guess I will have to take my old fraternity paddle out of the moth balls. There are too many birthdays going on.

* * *

A lovely farewell luncheon was given to Mrs. Terry, last Tuesday afternoon, by Mrs. Knaus.

* * *

Little Claudia Gould, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gould of San Bruno street, unfortunateately fell and fractured her left elbow, last Tuesday. Her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

* * *

The open house at the school proved a great success. Congratulations to Miss Lippman and her associate teachers.

* * *

Our genial postmistress, Miss Dewherst, is beginning to publicize air mail week. You know, folks, if you have ever tried to send your mail by air the speed of delivery. Try it, again.

* * *

Rifle Club meeting next Wednesday at Bob Burns.

* * *

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Charles Thurston died of heart trouble.

* * *

Charlie Mozzetti's boy broke his right elbow.

* * *

Mrs. C. C. Baker slipped and fell, suffering a concussion of the brain.

* * *

We have been wondering where the Vets are going to mount the guns? The way the building is camouflaged, we are reminded of a battle field.

* * *

May we correct a statement of last week about dear little Rosie? We understand that the concoction was bicarbonate and soda mixed with shampoo, rather than wave set.

* * *

Mrs. William J. Jonas has been delegated to represent the San Mateo County chapter at the annual convention of the American National Red Cross at San Francisco, Calif., May 2-5, 1938.

* * *

Ethel Jonas has filed for school trustee. The elections are to be held June 3. The deadline date for filing is May 19, 1938.

U. S. AVIATOR HELD IN JAPAN

Elwyn Gibbins, United States flier who was recently taken off a Canadian liner at Yokohama by Japanese officials and held as a "prisoner of war." Gibbon, en route to Seattle, had served in the Chinese air force during the early part of the current Sino-Japanese war. Great Britain and the United States, concerned over Gibbon's fate, began an investigation into the case. Gibbon was charged by the Japanese with having "confessed" he took part in the bombing of Japanese tropps, but Gibbon denied he had been anything but an aviation instructor for the Chinese. His wife was permitted to continue her trip to Seattle.

Police indicated, later, that the aviator might be released soon.

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, May 1, on the subject "Everlasting Punishment."

The Golden Text will be: "Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?" (Ezekiel 18: 23). Bible selections will include the following passage from Hebrews 12: 11: "Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterwards it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "The sharp experiences of belief in the supposititious life of matter, as well as our disappointments and ceaseless woes, turn us like tired children to the arms of divine Love. Then we begin to learn Life in divine Science. Without this process of weaning, 'Canst thou by searching find out god?'" (p. 322).

At a banquet held in Cedar Keys, Fla., to raise funds for the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation, Mrs. T. D. Duncan found six pearls in the oysters served her. They were valued at $500, and Mrs. Duncan presented them to the Foundation.

INSPIRING TALK ON OPPORTUNITY

Problems Of Youth Reviewed In Public Schools Week Address

"People seek security and freedom of action in the day in which we live. Various isms have appealed to many as they have promised security and freedom of action. We desire a reasonable amount of freedom of action."

So stated Dr. Franklin Sewell, political science instructor at San Francisco Junior College, as he addressed a large audience at the special public school week program at Jefferson Union High School auditorium, Tuesday evening of this week.

"Youth is faced with complex times. We live in a world of constant changes and the question of adjusting ones self to this changing world is a vital one," declared the speaker. He illustrated the changing process by citing the million dollar carriage used by Napoleon in contrast to the $25 used cars of ancient vintage used by American college students. The former moved slowly over cobble stone streets while the old automobiles move swiftly over smoothly paved streets.

"Today in modern education we are trying to get a broad background and assist the young people in learning to spend their leisure time in the most pleasing way possible. We are attempting to build a plan for a fuller life in order that we might encourage the art of living.

"We are entering a period when the new fields of opportunity are great. There is a challenge to the pioneer spirit, and youth will not fail. Youth has never failed. We have a great opportunity for training these young men and women who will pioneer in the future," declared Dr. Sewell, in conclusion.

Mr. James Ferguson, principal of the school, acted as chairman of the evening and introduced the speaker after the audience had taken the pledge of allegiance to the flag and a brief musical program was presented by the music department of the high school. Special musical numbers were provided by Jean Bomke, George Shinazy, and the Vernazza Twins. The A Capella Choir, ably directed by Albert Scott, presented two numbers.

Following the formal program, a tour of inspection of the newly completed gynasium and swimming pool was enjoyed by hundreds of patrons of the school and students. All were loud in their praise of the modern building equipment that is now available for the high school students of this district.

Mrs. C. J. Perkins of St Louis withdrew her suit for divorce when her husband took the pledge for life not to drink liquor.

BRISBANE P T A

By B. Darling

Fun for all!

The Brisbane P. T. A. will give a show May 6, 1938, at 8 p.m., to be held in the school auditorium.

A dramatic class will produce a one-hour play, "The Castle of Mr. Simpson"; tap dance (a mere little miss); light rope act (exciting); melo-drama (very, very sad); hill billy number (good looking girls); Goofus (four girls you know); some one sings a sad song.

Brisbane School Is Up To Date

Brisbane School has proven on the night of open house, April 26, to have one of the most modern up-to-date methods of education for our children, by actually showing in motion pictures certain subjects and history which will absorb a child's mind much faster then a whole lot of reading. It was surprising to see that modern transportation is also one of their important studies. Our principal, Miss Lipman, and staff are to be very highly commended for this work.

GOES TO SLEEP CAR IS WRECKED

Going to sleep at the wheel proved dangerous business for Raymond Garfield, 30, 840 San Felipe avenue, San Bruno, when the car he was driving went off the road and hit a fence on El Camino Real near Euclid avenue, early Sunday morning, according to police.

Anthony Del Santo, 24, 1543 Franklin avenue, only other occupant of car, received treatment at South San Francisco Hospital for cuts and bruises and Garfield for shock.
